Accomplishments

Decided on Flask web framework with text interface for website. Installed Flask. Researched Flask structure. Set up website layout with html and css.

Challenges

Deciding on the interface was difficult. Many implementations were initiated and thrown out.

Time Spent

2 hours were spent creating the website layout in html and css. 4 hours were spent on beginning the translation of the game loop into Javascript. 2 hours were spent installing and redesigning the website around a Flask based text interface.

Goals

Get the current version of the game fully functioning on the website in a text based interface.
